Detail;

The Royal New Zealand Navy ("RNZN") is based in Devonport, Auckland and the Naval Sports Complex is on the northern side of Stanley Point. This is one of the main sports and outdoor recreation areas of the RNZN incorporating cricket, rugby, league and soccer fields.

In 1984 the reclamation and upgrade of the fields was completed under the auspices of the Ministry of Works and required a fencing solution that met the following criteria;

- Provided perimeter security for the RNZN
- Safety for the participants and guests on site; it is flanked by sea on 3 sides
- Could withstand the heavy salt laden sea winds
- A reliable New Zealand made solution

26 years later the Anchor Security Panels are in place and still in good condition.

Below is the original photo in 1984 after installation, and a more recent photo taken in 2011.
